

What makes a great early childhood educator?

Here are a couple of ideas of what makes a great early childhood educator. While there are other attributes we thought that these were quite poetic and represented some of the great qualities that many educators collectively possess.

Please share this short video with other educators who inspire and guide learning every day of the week.